

Minor Field Studies at the Department of Government, Uppsala University:

- 1 Sten B. Widmalm Dowry Crimes and Law Implementation in India, 1990.
- 2 Eyvind Reyes Freedom of Expression in Nicaragua: A study of the Debate, 1990.
- 3 Somers Fry Social Forestry in the Indian Context, 1991.
- 4 Karin Bergenfur The Role and Function of the Ombudsman in Zimbabwe, 1991.
- 5 Ingrid Widlund The Political Relevance of Voluntary Organization in Development - An Indian Case Study, 1991.
- 6 Kristina Karlsson National Resistance in Uganda, 1991.
- 7 Mattias Burell The Social Base of Political Opposition in Taiwan: Is Class Analysis a Viable Method?, 1991.
- 8 Per Strand SWAPO and Nation Building in Namibia - Transfer of Power in a Post-Communist Era, 1991.
- 9 Henrik Berglund Promotional Groups in a Particularistic State - A Study of Women's Organizations in India, 1991.
- 10 Ann-Marie Sundberg Still the Century of Corporatism? An Empirical Study of the Position of Namibia National Student Organization, 1991.
- 11 Karolina Andersson and Therese Borrmann Juntas de Vecinos - A Local Territorial Organization and its Contributions to Democracy, 1991.
- 12 Lena Forsgren Land Reforms contra Private Property Right - The Case of India, 1991.
- 13 Staffan Smedby Economic Development and Democracy in Chile, 1991.
- 14 Anna Nyfjäll Bharatiya Kisan Union - A Farmer's Movement in an Urban-Bias Environment, India, 1992.
- 15 Katarina Fröberg and Kjell Å Sjöberg Information as a Policy Instrument, Tanzania, 1992.
- 16 Maria Edin Transition to democracy in Exile - A Study of the Tibetan Government's Strategy for Self-Determination, 1992.
- 17 Malin Elisson Positive Discrimination in India - A Debate Analysis of the Mandal Commission Report, 1992.
- 18 Johan Dahlin The Land Question in Zimbabwe, 1992.
- 19 Anna Lewin Chieftaincy - An African Version of Corporatism, Ghana, 1992.
- 20 Richard Myrenberg NAAM in Burkina Faso - A Study of the Relationship Between a Local NGO and the State, 1992.
- 21 Karin Schultz Political Hinduism - The Politicisation of Ethnic Identity by the BJP in India, 1992.
- 22 Ingela Österberg La Structure Décisionnelle dans une Communauté Rurale et un Village au Sénégal, 1992.
- 23 Pereric Högborg Autonomy of the Press in Zambia - A Study of Media Control in a Newborn Democracy, 1993.
- 24 Anna Grauers Cape Verde - a Democracy Study of MpD and PAICV, 1993.
- 25 Mårten Henning and Göran Schill Good Governance and Politics in Kenya, 1993.
- 26 Mikael Román Governing Environmental "Commons" - An Introductory Analysis of "the Amazon Cooperation Treaty", Cuba, 1993.
- 27 Åsa Finnström Demystifying Law - A Case Study of Legal Strategies for Social Change in India, 1993.
- 28 Marie Haglind Ecological Politics and the Green Movement in India - Towards an Alternative Model of Development, 1993.
- 29 Carina Åqvist Moderating Ethnic Conflict - Preferential Policies in Malaysia, 1993.
- 30 Åsa Gerger Paper Parks or Protected National Parks? A Case Study on the 'Protected Areas Resources Conservation' Project in Jamaica, 1994.

- 31 Elisabeth Corell Water and Security: The Case of the Cauvery River in South India, 1994.
- 32 Peter van Gylswyk The Democratic Process and the Inclusion of an Indigenous Minority - a case study of the Ju/'Hoansi in Namibia, 1994.
- 33 Karolina Gustafsson Does Aid Work - A case study of the sustainability of a former aid-project in Tanzania, 1994.
- 34 Per Nordlund Organizing Democratization - Politics and Power in Zambia, 1994.
- 35 Fredrik Uggla Pride, Prejudice, or Pragmatism - Negotiating Constitutional Changes during Chile's Transition to Democracy, 1994.
- 36 Jean-Luc af Geijerstam The 1991 Constitution of the Lao People's Democratic Republic; Constitutionalism in a One-Party State?, 1994.
- 37 Joachim Beijmo Mass Media and Democratization - A Case Study of Eritrea, 1995.
- 38 Helena Grusell and Ingela Johansson Unity Within Diversity? Mobilization of the Indigenous People in Ecuador, through CONAIE, to Reach Influence in National Politics, 1995.
- 39 Malin Krook Watchdog of the People - a Study of the Free Press in Botswana, 1995.
- 40 Magnus Atterfors Media Performance in Tanzania, 1995.
- 41 Sara Karlsson A democratic civil society? an evolution of human rights organizations in Uganda, 1995.
- 42 Jenny Mård and Magnus Andersson The Role of the Mexican Opposition in the Transition to Democracy. A Study of the PRD and the PAN, 1995.
- 43 Anna Hamrell and Fia Nilsson Sustainable Development in Zimbabwe's Communal Areas. A Result Analysis of Campfire, 1995.
- 44 Ann-Cristin Ljungman Freedom of the Press on Trial - A case study of press conduct in the Ramjanmabhumi-Babri Masjid conflict, India, 1995.
- 45 Mathias Krüger People's Power - The Process of Decentralisation in Nepal, 1995.
- 46 Emma Sterky Women and Civic Civil Society in Vietnam, 1996.
- 47 Ingmar Nevéus Rule of Law in Laos - Implementation and Information, 1996.
- 48 Sara Monaco Freedom of the Media in Malawi - Challenges in a Fledgling Democracy, 1996.
- 49 Karin Timm China's Civil Society - A Case Study of Women's Organisations in Beijing, 1996.
- 50 Mattias Sigfridsson Traditional Authority in Modern Institutions? -The Chieftaincy and the Land Boards of Botswana, 1996.
- 51 Henrik Ahlqvist The Sensible Negotiator - A Study of the Local Government Negotiating Forum in South Africa's Transition to Democracy, 1996.
- 52 Annelie Andersson The Grameen Bank Member - Do Microcredit Organizations Build Social Capital in Bangladesh?, 1996.
- 53 Jonas Frykman Regional Autonomy: The Problem of Implementation - A Case Study of the Southern Atlantic Coast of Nicaragua, 1996.
- 54 Jonas Fredén Are Tunisian Islamists Conservative? Reaction, Protest and Conservatism - A study of Rachid Ghannouchi's Ideas, 1996.
- 55 Marie Olausson and Sara Uddenberg The Lao Women's Union - Gender Policy and Implementation, 1997.
- 56 Anna Silkenäs and Anna Julius Religiosity and Civicness - Two Case Studies in Calcutta, India, 1997.
- 57 Elin Björkman From Informal to Formal Politics – A Study of Female Political Participation in the Kilimanjaro Region, Tanzania, 1997.
- 58 Anna Rune Women and National Decision-making in Uganda – A Minority Present, 1998.
- 59 Åsa Ytterbergh Making Women Whole: Women and Adult Basic Education in Western Cape, South Africa, 1998.
- 60 Fredrik Ridaeus Habit or Choice? The Role of Associational Life in Promoting Interpersonal Trust in Cape Town, South Africa, 1998.

- 61 Jessica Blanck Civil Society, Decentralization, and Democratic Development: The Case of Kerala, India, 1998.
- 62 Emma Öståker The Maya Movement – A Potential Promoter of Democratic Consolidation in Guatemala, 1998.
- 63 Lisbet Spörndly Botswana – A Study of the Political Opposition in a One-Party Dominant Regime, 1998.
- 64 Anneli Helgesson Women's Groups in Kenya – What do they mean to Democracy? A Minor Field Study of Civil Society Theories and the Work of Women's Groups in Kenya, 1998.
- 65 Annika Mokvist Trust or Assurance in Intracommunal Collective Action Situations – A Field Study in Orissa, India, 1998.
- 66 Olof Ambjörn Beyond Loyalty – Union Response to Menem's Reforms in Argentina 1994-97, 1998.
- 67 Tove Norlén Post-agreement Support for Reconciliation in Divided Societies – The peace-building idea revised against the background of the Israeli-Palestinian conflict, 1998.
- 68 Lóa Brynjúlfsdóttir Tolerance for Non-Conformity – A Study of the Namibian Political Elite, 1998.
- 69 Magnus Öhman Elite Consensus in a Ghanaian Context - the Inter-Party Advisory Committee and the 1996 Elections, 1999.
- 70 Markus Werne The Role of Civil Society in Democratic Consolidation in South Africa - A Case Study of the Western Province Council of Churches, 1999.
- 71 Anna Nielsen and Pär Zetterberg The Significance of Political Parties for Civil Society: How the Creation of Pachakutik has influenced CONAIE's Struggle in Ecuadorian National Politics, 1999.
- 72 Niklas Eklöv Preaching & Teaching: Evangelical Churches as Schools of Democracy? The Case of Ethiopia, 1999.
- 73 Åsa Claesson The Human Rights Movement in Kenya: A Survey and Exploration into Ideology and Agenda, 1999.
- 74 Karin Bodin and Teresa Rovira The Sandinista Legacy - Burden or Benefit? A Study of the Nicaraguan Communal Movement, 1999.
- 75 Fredrik Nornvall Foregoing the Future: Educational Deprivation, Social Capital and the State in Uttar Pradesh, India, 1999.
- 76 Sofia Kobayashi Strategies for Success: A Study of Money Politics and Electioneering in Rural Thailand, 1999.
- 77 Johan Berglund The Challenges of Urban Mobilization - Strategic Action and Collective Identities in a Changing Political Landscape. A Field Study of the Movimiento Urbano Popular in Mexico City, 1999.
- 78 Bodil Lampén Women in Panchayati Raj - Beginning of a Silent Revolution?, India, 1999.
- 79 Viviana Stechina The Policy-Making Style of the Chilean Government of President Frei - A Study of the Decision-Making Process of a Particular Foreign Policy Decision: The Signing of the Economic Complementation Agreement with Mercosur (1996), 1999.
- 80 Magdalena Inkinen Mobilising the Poor: Low-Caste Voting and the Rise of the Bahujan Samaj Party in Northern India, 1999.
- 81 Karin Strandås Promoting Women's Political Representation - the Case of HESAWA, Tanzania, 1999.
- 82 Maria Bexelius Protesting Violence - An Empowering Force? A Case Study of Tribal Women's Protests against CRPF-violence in Banpur, Orissa, India, 2000.
- 83 Annelie Rostedt Umbrellas for Democracy? A Study of the Building of Zambian Civil Society through Umbrella Organisations, 2000.

- 84 Ylva Johansson Neighborhood Networks: Organizational Structures and Democratic Competence in India, 2000.
- 85 Pia Han Lind Uzbekistan - An Illiberal Democracy? Investigating the Local Mahalla System, 2000.
- 86 Karin Fällman Social Capital across the Public-Private Divide - The Women's Movement, the State, and Public Participation in Chile, 2000.
- 87 Helena Gunnarsson and Susanne Mattson Trust in a Plural Society - A Case Study of Two Arenas for Social Capital in Malaysia, 2000.
- 88 Karin Fyrk Ethnicity in Zambia's Third Republic - A Return to "Stone-Age Politics"?, 2000.
- 89 Maria Törnqvist Performing Politics - A Study on Community Theatre and Civil Society in Zimbabwe, 2000.
- 90 Malin Ljunggren Female Political Participation in Bolivia: A Minor Field Study of Women in Cochabamba and Oruro, 2000.
- 91 Camilla Lindquist A Study of the Relationship between the Political Executive and the Constitution in Namibia, 2000.
- 92 Jenny Berg and Sara Haglund Struggle for Domination: Power Capabilities in Brazilian Bureaucracy, 2001.
- 93 Johanna Wiklund Coordinadora Civil in Nicaragua: The Democratic Potential of a Civil Society Coalition, 2001.
- 94 Lotta Lann and Karin Molin Rulers of the Free Word: A Minor Field Study of the Media in Zambia, 2001.
- 95 Emilie Anér and Elin Bjarnegård, Unveiling Women: Factors Influencing Female Political Activism in Bangladesh, 2001.
- 96 Elin Solman Good, "The More Friends, the Less Enemies": Internet and Social Capital in Vietnam, 2001.
- 97 Mattias Jonsjö, The Politics of Development and Democratisation: A Study of Civil Society Participation, Political Action and Local Government Performance in Two El Salvadoran Municipalities, 2002.
- 98 Maria Arnqvist, Music as a Democratic Force: The Role of Popular Music and Musicians in Burkina Faso, 2002.
- 99 Carolina Sundkvist, Key to Life - Primary Education and Street-Level Bureaucrats in Arusha, Tanzania, 2002.
- 100 Daniel Holm, Church and School? The Dutch Reformed Church and the Charismatic Churches as Schools of Democracy, 2002.
- 101 Karolina Hulterström, Ethnic Politics? A Comparative Study of Party Support and Voting Behaviour in Kenya and Zambia, 2002.
- 102 Sara Österlund, "In This Place, Only Thieves are Living": Testing a Social Capital Hypothesis in the Segmented Society of South Africa, 2002.
- 103 Björn Johansson, Crossing the Divide - A Study of the Mechanisms Linking Social Capital and Democratic Performance in Two Indian States, 2003.
- 104 Louise Mattsson & Eva Qvarnström, Democracy with a Difference: A Study of the Transition Towards Democracy among the Exile Tibetans, 2003.
- 105 Ingrid Rydell & Monika Sarajarvi, When Negative Results are Positive: A Study of the Use of Social Networks in HIV Prevention in Senegal, 2003.
- 106 Lotten Hubendick & Joakim Lindberg, 'We will Fight, We will Win!' - The Importance of Social Networks in the Struggle Against the Maheshwar Dam in India, 2003.
- 107 Annika Rigö, Social Capital, Democratic Attitudes and Students at the University of Colombo, Sri Lanka, 2003.
- 108 Sara Bertilsson & Anders Sundin, Creating Prerequisites for Political Participation: A Study of Two Trade Unions in India, 2003.

- 109 Lena Wallquist & Jens Karberg, The Voice of the People? Women's Organisations and the Labour Movement in Cambodia, 2003.
- 110 Moa Lagercrantz, Change and Continuity in Tanzanian Refugee Policy. A Case Study on Foreign Policy and Government Refugee Policy in Tanzania, 2003.
- 111 Petra Pilawa-Podgurski, Microcredits and Empowerment of Women. A Minor Field Study in San Lucas Tolimán, Guatemala, 2003.
- 112 Malin Christensson, On Trust and Trees: Co-operation and Conflict in Community Forest Management in Two Indian Villages, 2003.
- 113 Nina Charlotte Hoas, Community Participation in Refugee Camps in Guinea, Guinea, 2003.
- 114 Christian Ottosson, Institutions & Inclusion – describing democratic consolidation in municipal Guatemala, 2003.
- 115 Maria Cramér & Therese Sjöström, Protest – Politics of the Poor: A study of the piquetero movement in Buenos Aires, Argentina, 2003.
- 116 Jörgen Karlsson, Mexico on the Move: The role of the labour unions in the Mexican public policy, 2003.
- 117 Undis Vatvedt Fjeld, Voice of the Rich – analysing attitudes towards poverty among the educated elite in New Delhi, India, 2003.
- 118 Anna Lindqvist, A Cry for Change – analyzing the strategies and actions of the indigenous movement during the January 2000 uprisings in Ecuador, 2004.
- 119 Helena Adlercreutz, Poverty, Peronism and Plan Vida – Political Clientelism in Contemporary Argentina: A Case Study of a Social Welfare Program in La Matanza, Buenos Aires, 2004.
- 120 Elin Adelmars & Johanna Lindqvist, To Act and React – a comparative study of two civil society networks in El Salvador, 2004.
- 121 Kristine Lundgren, Women's Political Participation in Iran, 2004.
- 122 Jon Bäckström, How to Control Mass Media in an Illiberal Democracy – A case study of Kazakhstan, 2004.
- 123 Helena Barrett & Eva Palmqvist, Dominance and Opposition – A Study of Party Politics in South Africa, 2004.
- 124 Tor Lundberg, South Africa – Continuing democratic development, 2004.
- 125 Lina Andéer & Kristina Jelmin, Peasants' resistance in a global context – a two-case study of solidarity within the transnational peasant movement, 2004.
- 126 Mikaela Staaf & Monica Wulfing, Ethnic Identity and Ethnic Interest: Mobilising Factors for Collective Action in Burkina Faso?, 2004.
- 127 Sara Öberg & Fredrik Larsson, Panchayats, Power for the Poor? A Comparative Study of the Political Influence of CPI(M) Members Elected for the Panchyati Raj in Kerala and West Bengal, 2004.
- 128 Maria Helling & Lotta Höglund, How Can Women's Situation in Developing Countries Be Strengthened? A Case Study of An NGO's Work for Senegalese Women, 2004.
- 129 Maria Enekvist, Overcoming the Barriers: The Process for Recruitment for Political Participation among Rural Women in Brazil, 2005.
- 130 Pontus Rosenberg, Culture as a barrier to women's political power: A case study of female political representation in Cuenca, Ecuador, 2005.
- 131 Lisa Andersson, What makes literacy matter – a field study on how Egyptian women make use of literacy, 2005.
- 132 Karin Holmqvist & Carina Lindström, Towards a new order? A case study of trade unions in Vietnam, 2005.
- 133 Michael Jonsson, Grievances, rebellion and peace – A case study of the successful conflict prevention in Ecuador, 2005.

- 134 Liza Larsson, Political Elites and Cooperation – A study investigating the effect of the OHR’s “Bonn powers”, on the cooperation among the local politicians of Bosnia and Herzegovina, 2005.
- 135 Martin Hallberg and Ola Pettersson, Fighting AIDS with political science – the importance of social capital in South Africa, 2005.
- 136 Marie-Louise Adlercreutz, Does Gender Mainstreaming work? A study of the Cotonou Agreement in practice – the case of the Education Sector Development Programme in Ethiopia, 2005.
- 137 Jenny Sjöö, “For my president and for my country”: The Círculos Bolivarianos – a Minor Field Study from Venezuela, 2006.
- 138 Carolina Bjuggren, Stable democracy and trust within a plural society – the case of Bosnia & Herzegovina, 2006.
- 139 Karin Schollin, Agents to reduce the educational gender gap – The driving forces of becoming a female teacher in primary education in Andhra Pradesh, India, 2006.
- 140 Kristian Tronsson, Safety Valve or Flash Point? The Recall Referendum in Venezuela 2004, 2006.
- 141 Manuela Rörfeldt, The Effects of Decentralisation when Implementing Social Projects – A Case Study of the Fome Zero Programme in Northeast Brazil, 2006.
- 142 Louise Johansson, Strengthening the Identity of Afro-Brazilian Women – a Study of Three Black Organisations in Rio de Janeiro, 2006.
- 143 Madelene Lindström, Women in parliament – A Minor Field Study about barriers and obstacles in the Costa Rican parliament, 2006.
- 144 Frida Hansson, Constitution-Making Explanations to Gender Quotas – A Case Study of the Introduction of Reserved Seats for Women in the Rwandan Parliament, 2007.
- 145 Marcus Andersson, Political and organisational factors and challenges of nation branding: the case of Sri Lanka, 2007.
- 146 Karolina Kral, A Sustainable Democratic Civil Society? A Study of Women NGOs in Albania, 2007.
- 147 Maria Elowsson, Learning to Become a Politician – A Study on Efforts to Strengthen Elected Women Representatives’ Leadership in the Local Governance Structure of India, 2007.
- 148 Maria Westlund, Influencing HIV/AIDS politics at local level – a study of the Treatment Action Campaign in Durban, 2007.
- 149 Sara Persson, The accountability of NGOs – a study of capacity-building NGOs in Nicaragua, 2007.
- 150 Hanna Grenerfors, Democratization through Political Islam? The Muslim Brotherhood in Egypt, 2007.
- 151 Susanne Tham, A Preference for Moderation? Electoral Engineering in the Fiji Islands, 2007.
- 152 Sofia Mårn, Social Networks and Trust in a Plural Society, 2007.
- 153 Karolina Mårn, Tolerance in a Malaysian Context, 2007.
- 154 Anna Ardin, The Cuban multi-party system. Is the democratic alternative really democratic and an alternative after the Castro regime?, 2007.
- 155 Anna Danielson, How to include the excluded – Can formal property rights diminish marginalization of the financial market?, 2007.
- 156 Emma Ekdahl, The Influence of External Democracy Promotion: The Case of Turkish Human Rights NGOs, 2007.
- 157 Simon Strannard, An Inquiry into the Dynamics of Empowerment, 2008.
- 158 Sofia Gustafsson, Who Owns the Development in Zambia? A Study of the Ownership of Zambia’s Fifth National Development Plan, 2008.
- 159 Marcelo Diaz, Fredsbyar i Colombia: När den svaga staten utmanas, 2008.

- 160 Hanna Söderbaum, Democracy All Inclusive: A field study of organisational culture at Swedish-managed companies in Ukraine, 2008.
- 161 Maria Boman, Conflicting views – The framing of abortion in Nicaraguan women’s organizations, 2008.
- 162 Anna-Maria Norman, Ukrainian NGOs’ democracy building potential – a critical study of the impact of aid in a post-communist context, 2008.
- 163 Axel Martin-Aronsson, Kathmandu Limited: Democratic perceptions and attitudes in transitional Nepal, 2008.
- 164 Susanne Vinell, Promoting Democracy? A Field Study of Thai Labour Unions’ Role in Democratic Consolidation, 2008.
- 165 Anna Dahlman, Labour Unions in a Globalized World – the Thai Labour Movement’s Ability to Promote Democracy, 2009.
- 166 Malin Häggqvist, Alternative Paths of Democratic Learning: A Study of the Development of Attitudes towards Democracy in Nepal, 2009.
- 167 Patrik Bergvall, Local ownership and globalisation: A study of development cooperation between local and global civil society organisations active in Sri Lankan export processing zones, 2009.
- 168 Linda Westman, A Righteous Regime? A Study of the Gap between Substantive and Procedural Political Legitimacy in Beijing, 2009.
- 169 Johanna Pettersson, Labour organising in unfavourable conditions. A study of trade union strategies in Sri Lankan export processing zones, 2009.
- 170 Emelie Dahlström, The Market as a Political Venue – An Explorative Study on Political Consumerism in India, 2009.
- 171 Miriam Falk, Partners in Development? A Study of NGOs and the Proclamation on Charities and Societies in Ethiopia, 2010.
- 172 Cecilia Josefsson, Acting for women? Assessing the impacts of gender quotas on the representation of women’s interests, 2010.
- 173 Tyra Warfvinge, Promoting Tolerance in a Xenophobic South Africa – A Case Study of the Role of Churches, 2010.
- 174 Richard Alfvén, Sport as a Method for Development – A field study Of Mbale Tigers Table Tennis Club, 2010.
- 175 Katarina Galic, In the Shade of the Pandemic - NGOs Renegotiating Gender and Sexualities in Tanzania, 2010.
- 176 Emma Corneliusson, A Tamed River and Flooded Farms – An examination of responsive behaviour in the face of floods along the Zambezi River in Central Mozambique, 2011.
- 177 Oscar Jonsson, The Pamris – An Early Warning Study, 2011.
- 178 Veronika Skärlund, Working for Change in Repressive States – A case study from China, 2011.
- 179 Andreas Reibring, Last Thursday in Havana – A Social Magazine and State Discourse, 2011.
- 180 Niels Selling, The Origin of India’s New Leaders – A Study of how the Younger Generations Are Replacing the Traditional Leaders in Rural India, 2010.
- 181 Helena Rönnblom, Corruption Culture? A minor field study of citizens’ attitudes towards corruption in Georgia, 2010.
- 182 Malin Holm, Why can’t she sit on her own seat?! A study of interlinked marginalization effects of the reserved seats system in Uganda, 2010.
- 183 Emilia Frost, Emancipation or Re-marginalization of the Local? A critical study of local ownership initiatives in external statebuilding and its effects on the vertical legitimacy, 2010.
- 184 Nina Carlsson, From Revolts to Inclusion? A Study on the Post-Decentralisation Political Efficacy of Tuaregs from Kidal, Mali, 2010.

- 185 Viola Lind, Trapped between ethnicity and gender? A minor field study about the possible clash between collective ethnic and individual gender rights for indigenous women in Ecuador, 2010.
- 186 Anna Hedlund, Travel and attitudes towards democracy – A qualitative study of mechanisms through interviews with citizens in Cartagena de Indias, Colombia, 2011.
- 187 Caroline Blomqvist, A Changing Energy Institution in India – How institutional entrepreneurs influence an increasing use of bioenergy in Andhra Pradesh with focus on information exchange, 2009.
- 188 Josef Ahlberg, Democracy Promotion in post-conflict Societies – A study of how international actors seek to assist democratisation in Afghanistan, 2007.
- 189 Susanna Wolff “Holding back youth is like holding back the ocean; it will come anyway” - A case study on youth participation in Tanzanian NGOs, 2010.
- 190 Agnes Stenström, Implementing Legal Empowerment Reforms – A Study of Tanzania’s Legal Sector Reform Programme, 2010.
- 191 Eva Iveroth, Anyone Accountable? Exploring accountability structures in multi-sectoral AIDS agencies in South Africa, 2011.
- 192 Sebastian Sirén, Towards Universalism? The obstructed process of health care reform in Bolivia, 2011.
- 193 Louise Matsson, Involving men to empower women? A field study of the development work with men as a way of reaching gender equality, 2011.
- 194 Hanna Helsing, Water and Religion: the two sacred combined – A study about religious views towards treated wastewater use in Jordan, 2011.
- 195 Carl Hvenmark Nilsson, Social capital within the context of internal displacement? A comparative case study of two internally displaced communities in Colombia, investigating levels of structural and cognitive social capital as well as potential evidence regarding its causal effect on project outcome, 2011.
- 196 Ingrid Edberg, Citizenship, Political Culture and the Cuban Youth: A Study of Interest in News and Politics, Sense of Political Efficacy, Commitment to the Revolution and Future Expectations of Young Educated Cubans in Havana, 2012.
- 197 Lina Malers, Perceptions of tolerance and trust - Exploring the Role of Ethnic quotas and Group cohesion in Bosnia and Herzegovina, 2011.
- 198 Karolina Gasinska, From research to HIV/AIDS policies in Kenya: A study on barriers for knowledge exchange between NGOs and the Government of Kenya, 2010.
- 199 David Jonason, Escaping the Curse - What Ghana’s Petroleum Governance Reform can teach us about the Supply and Demand Approach to Institutional Change, 2012.
- 200 Elin Blomberg, Benefiting from transnational networking: A minor field study on Colombian women’s NGOs, 2012.
- 201 Markus Forsberg, Marginal sanctions: Human rights in preferential trade agreements, the GSP+, and EU sanctions against Sri Lanka, 2012.
- 202 Anna Karefelt, New Venues for Participation - Evaluating Mobile-Enabled Participatory Election Observation, 2012.
- 203 Andreas Persson, Building Capacity in a Water-Stressed Nation – A Case Study in Blantyre, Malawi, 2012.
- 204 Therese Sjöström, Paving the way for human rights? The role of CSR and multinational companies in developing countries A case study of labour rights within the Vietnamese garment industry, 2012.
- 205 Thiyumi Senarathna, The Security And Justice Sector in Zimbabwe: Diverging Views in a Burgeoning Transformation Process, 2013.
- 206 Zohreh Khoban, No Role Models in Sight - A Minor Field Study on Women’s Political Engagement in Rajasthan, India, 2013.

- 207 Helene Halling, “Barça ou Barsakh” – an Analytic Ethnography on Emigration Culture and Irregular Migrant Decision-Making in Senegal, 2013.
- 208 Amalia Lind, Defying the unthinkable: Revolting against structure in Egypt in the spring of 2011, 2011.
- 209 Henrik Larsson, Exploring the Meaning of Voting and Abstention, 2013.
- 210 Vincent Baars, The Pliability of Political Tolerance in South Africa, 2013.
- 211 Hanna Julin, Acknowledgement in the aftermath of genocide and war in Rwanda, 2013.
- 212 Erika Lejon Flodin Female Representation: A Simple Solution to Complex Issues? A Case Study on Female Representation in the Rwandan Parliament and its Plausible Impact on Child Mortality, 2014.
- 213 Amanda Runsiö Backlash in India: A field-study about violence against women in Kerala, 2015
- 214 Anders Winberg HIV/AIDS Related Stigma and the Role of Civil Society – An Ethiopian Case Study, 2014.
- 215 Malin Andrén From Constitution to Institution? A field study of the conceptualization of democracy in Liberia, 2014.
- 216 Esaias Strandberg Non-Muslims in Azerbaijan: Promoting and Regulating Religious Freedom, 2014.
- 217 Johan Mellström Ethnic Diversity and Social Trust in Post-apartheid Space: An Analysis of Capetonian Neighbourhoods, 2014.
- 218 Vendela Romedahl Stjernquist Aborto Legal Para No Morir: Mobilization for the Decriminalization of Abortion in Argentina, 2014.
- 219 Linn Grindborg Social Reintegration and Citizenship: The Equal Involvement of Community Members and Former Combatants in the Social Life of Aceh, 2014.
- 220 Charlotte Erdtman A School of Democracy, for Real? A Field Study in Four Post-Conflict Colombian Communities on the Importance of Education for the Enhancement of Political Tolerance, 2014.
- 221 Stefan Thunberg Wealth & Values: Testing Postmaterialism as a Mechanism for Modernization Theory, 2014.
- 222 Madeleine Södermalm Gender mainstreaming as a tool in climate change adaptation programs in Cambodia, 2014.
- 223 Elisabet Lundqvist “Men Will Come to Stand First” Decentralization, Women Empowerment, and Traditional Leadership in Liberia, 2014.
- 224 Amelie Langby Experiences of Democracy Assistance in Georgia: A Minor Field Study on Western Democracy Assistance and its function in the Democratization process in Georgia after the Rose Revolution, 2014.
- 225 Caroline Kölegård Scandinavian Aid for Whose Pockets? A minor field study on Scandinavian donors’ collaboration with the private sector in Mozambique, 2015.
- 226 Hannah Öhlén Nationality, Sexuality & Liberation: A Field Study of the Interconnections of Feminism and Nationalism in Palestine, 2015.
- 227 Marcia Munoz The interplay between institutions: a feminist institutional perspective on the parental leave policy in Chile, 2015.
- 228 John Runeson Ways to Political Participation In Modern Day Ukraine, 2015.
- 229 Otilia Eriksson “When they talk people listen” Perception of power among Luo women in Kenya, 2015.
- 230 Sebastian Cavegård Curbing Corruption and Enhancing State Capacity in Ethiopia: How Anticorruption Agencies Can Make a Difference, 2015.
- 231 Laura Asperholm Hedlund The discrepancy between the decreased support for women as political leaders and the increased percentage of women in parliament in post-coup d’état Madagascar, 2015.